EURO 2020 Competition

We are there at last! Scotland will play in Euro 2020; the first major competition since 1998. And you can take even more of an interest by entering our free Euro 2020 Competition? Challenge the “expert” in your family to see who scores the most points? It’s easy. Just predict the scores in the 1st round group matches. A correct score gets you 3 points. If your score is wrong but the result is correct you score 1 point. For example, if you predict England 1 .v. 9 Scotland, you get 3 points if that is the final score. If Scotland win with a different score you get 1 point. We have two prizes of £50 on offer. The person with the most points after the 1st round wins £50. The second £50 prize is on offer to anyone who can predict who will win the tournament and who will be runner up.
